MONEY MATT-ers

Dear Matt,
If you only have one option for a Christmas or Hanukkah program to enjoy hot cocoa or something stronger what would it be?
– Herme (Dentist)

Dear Herme,
This time of the year there are literally hundreds of shows to watch to make you feel all good all over. For the Jewish family, Adam Sandler's 8 Crazy Nights is a comic tour de force that is a holiday classic. On the goyim side you have to go with Charlie Brown or Frosty which are a toss up for what is better. May all your putts be par and drives true.
– Matt

Current Bad Weather Policy

With Winter Coming we now have a policy in place about cancellation of meetings due to snow storms. If we have a significant snow storm, and the Beverly Public Schools are closed on a Thursday due to snow we WILL NOT meet. Even if its one of those that starts out at 5am like a bear but by 11am its bluebird skies, if Beverly Schools close, WE DO NOT MEET. We hope this clarifies any confusion about meetings on bad weather days.

Waitstaff props

Nadine and Sandy do a great job for us all year. You may disagree with the food or it disagrees with you, but these two ladies are the best week in and week out. Starting this week we will have a basket to show your appreciation. Any amount is fine but we suggest $20 if you can.

have not already done so, please send me your seat inscription which can be 20 characters per line, a maximum of 2 lines Concert starts at 8pm
If you haven't bought a ticket you still have time at the special Rotary price of $100 per seat

Thank you for supporting The Cabot - it is much appreciated!

SPACE COWBOY? OR GANGSTER OF LOVE? STEVE MILLER FANS REJOICE!

Now that NASA has landed a probe on Mars I'm very excited about the possibility of colonization. More importantly golf courses will certainly show up soon after for leisure seeker after a 10 month journey to the red planet.

What I'm really stoked about is you know my drives that at most go 275 yards, on Mars with its atmosphere, that drive will now be 275,000 yards. I'll need to work on my short game to keep the ball in bounds. can't wait to take on that par 5 on Olympic Mons. Ah space the final frontier of exploration and golf.

Mars Mystery

NASA in its probe of Mars has found possible signs of a civilization at the edge of the Medusae Fossae Formation. It almost looks like a piece of mail that was lost or misplaced ions ago. The best guess the Scientists can determine it may have been a humanoid being that used a now defunct mail system. Further study is needed with the only clue a return address on the partial envelope. See below.

Holiday Parade Glory

Thanks to Jackie and her friend Jeff who came through with a truck to make a last minute float for Rotary.
President matt and next in line Dave Olson walked along the parade route dispensing free advice to those that would listen. Moiph (anti-claus) and jackie had a great time in the truck and our jaws are still hurting from laughing and smiling for 2 miles. We did question one thing, instructed not to toss candy, we found that many floats DID toss candy and proof was in the bags of swag kids gathered. The look of disappointment when we didn't toss candy was heart breaking. Goal is to get a first prize next year by handing out Paul Harris Fellows and Fireball shots to the lucky few.

Beverly/Salem Football

Since Salem Club won't be coming this week we can bad mouth them Beverly Football kicked tushy after a 14-7 win in a frigid Hurd Stadium. Above are a few pics of last weeks joint meeting. Proof that Mayor Cahill will pay Ed's fines pictured with Mayor Driscoll of Salem.
Editor had pleasure of sitting next to Mayor Driscoll, not sure if feeling was reciprocated, she was wondering where my dress was? Dave Contarino with the Beverly Boosters including giants Frank Forti and Red Hutt, plus Dan Marchand.
Football Captains at top who were very serious about the picture taken and the game. It all worked out fine with end of the game controversy but no punches thrown. Hot Cocoa was the largest amount sold at Hurd since 1947.
